THE BRITISH RACE.

A Sturdy People in Physique, With Some Peculiarities in Dress.

(London Cor. Philadelphia Telegraph.)

The feature of London that always strikes me the most forcibly when I come here from Paris is the superior physique of the people. The average British male is a fine looking creature.

The great, broad-shouldered, sinewy-looking men look as though the old legend of one Englishman being a match for ten Frenchmen was strictly founded on fact. And the young men are such fresh-cheeked, clean-limbed, clear-eyed fellows that it does one good to look at them after a long course of gazing at the small, sallow, keen-eyed Parisians. I am beginning, too, to wake up to an appreciation of the remarkable beauty of the English women. They do their best to blot it out under garments hideous in shape and exasperating in color; but the beauty is there, and an analyst of feminine charms can recognize it, despite the drawbacks of ill-dressed hair and ill-fitting gowns, boots and gloves. Such beautiful hair as one sees on the heads of young girls, who can do nothing better with profuse silken locks that would drive a Parisian coiffeur half wild with admiration, than to scratch them back off their foreheads and twist them up in a little hard ball behind. And then their complexions—cream and roses afford the only comparisons possible, Add to this such arms and a neck as a sculptor would be proud to model, and the result is—a dowdy. Well dressed, one half of the young English women would be flesh-and-blood Venuess. As it is, they are merely commonplace girls with a touch of the absurd about their appearance. Now and then one sees a face so fresh, so fair, so charming in its blooming youth and innocent candor that it is lovely in spite of combed-back hair and a horrible bonnet. But it must be very lovely to stand such a test, and not one in a thousand can do so. One thing that is very odd about English ladies is the fact that they never care to have their dresses fit. They wear gowns the cut of which would drive an average American female wild with misery. I was at the opera last night, and in front of me sat a young lady wearing a dress of pale blue brocade trimmed with pear passementerie. It laced up the back, and one side of the corsage was fully half an inch higher than the other, to say nothing of such minor defects as sleeves cut out very much in the back, and a general series of wrinkles all over the corsage. This is rather an extreme case, but as a rule the dresses worn by English women do not make even a feeble pretence at fitting it.

FRANCE.

The Republic's Attitude Toward Annam.

PARIS, July 22.—M. Challemel Lacour, minister of foreign affairs, replying in the senate yesterday to a question by the Duc de Broglie, Orleanist, said that France had not declared war against Annam. There was no thought as yet of establishing a blockade in Annamese waters, but France would certainly do so if any other power should supply Annam with arms and ammunition. Tuduc had not declared war against France. On the contrary, he had avowed his respect for the existing treaties between France and Annam. Challemel Lacour believed it to be untrue that Tuduc had asked the assistance of China. France, he said, had told Tuduc she intended to have her settlement in Tonquin respected, and she would prevent a band of Chinese and Annamites from committing outrages on French subjects. In conclusion the minister said: "Although there is not open war, yet all the acts and language of Tuduc and likewise of China and her embassadors, have been such that we must consider ourselves at war with Anam. If we are unable to restore order in Tonquin without attacking Annam, we shall not hesitate to ask the necessary power of parliament, but we have not yet arrived at that point. We are determined to avenge the insult to our armies and the outrages committed on the bodies of our soldiers." (Applause.) The subject was then dropped.

HOPING FOR PEACE.

The Journal des Debats hopes that the appointment of M. Waddington as French embassador to Great Britain will dispel the present differences between the two nations. It says: France will then be able to pursue her colonial policy and prove that it satisfies her ambitions. All useless precautions against her will fall to the ground. She loves peace at home and needs it abroad.

ROME, July 22.—Orsini, promoter of the Rome exhibition, defeated Ricciotti Garibaldi for a seat in the chamber of deputies.

Foes Given Away by an English Prince.

(London World.)

Among the items in the estimate of expenses for the Duke of Edinburgh's special mission to Moscow is £1,000 for "gratuities." People who think that this amount is exorbitant will perhaps change their opinion on learning that when the Emperor Nicholas visited the Queen at Windsor castle in 1844 he gave £2,000 to the servants and £1,000 to the housekeeper, as well as six gold snuff boxes, with his picture set in diamonds, to the lords of the household, and six with his cipher to the equerries and grooms-in-waiting. These were the chief gifts; but for other dependants about a bushel of rings, watches and brooches were distributed. When the late Emperor Napoleon stayed at Windsor in 1855 he left £1,500 for the servants.

PHOSPHATINE.—An almost certain remedy for Pulmonary Consumption and all chronic and wasting diseases. The greatest medical discovery of the nineteenth century; a scientifically prepared remedy free from quackery; pure, delicious, natural and permanent in its results. Its efficacy is something wonderful; discovered by Prof. G. Lowell Austin, Boston, Mass. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by all druggists. dw

A REMARKABLE FACT.

It is a remarkable fact that W. A. Edgers, of Frankville, who was so far gone with liver and kidney complaint that his life was despaired of, was cured with four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. At one time he lay a fortnight without an operation of the bowels. (36)

POPULARITY.

Why they are popular. reason that National Pills are so universally popular is because they are certain in their action, mild and painless in their operation, and never leave the bowels constipated. They are sugar-coated, and contain no mineral poison. (35)

A PRAISEWORTHY OBJECT.

"None name it but to praise." This is true of that unsurpassed remedy, "Hagyard's Yellow Oil." It cures pain and inflammation, whether from sprain, bruise, or frost-bite, lame back, rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, croup, deafness, and for internal and external use. (31)

IF you have feelings of goneness, too weak and dragging to rally, too nervous to sleep, digestion hardly sufficient to keep soul and body together, tired brain, headaches, pains across the back, the whole system relaxed, sore lungs or a cough, and will try from one to six bottles of Dr. Austin's Phosphatine, as the case may require, it will not fail to make you our enthusiastic friend. Price $1.00. For sale by all druggists. dw

IF YOU are desirous to obtain immediate relief from any kidney trouble, and thus prevent the fatal results that always attend the neglect of those distressing complaints (and who does not?) why, take Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure at once. It is safe, simple and effectual. dw

SAVED, SAVED, SAVED, was the expression of a distinguished citizen of Des Moines, Iowa, as he stepped out of the front door after being confined to the house for a year. He had been given up to die by his doctors, when a friend brought him a bottle of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure, and in three months he was perfectly well. w

DR. COOPER'S VEGETABLE LIVER-WORT AND KIDNEY CURE

Has no equal as a safe remedy for all diseases of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. Over 250,000 bottles sold during 1882. Price $1 a bottle. MOORE & CO., sole agents. dw

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 28TH, 1883.

COLONIAL ANNEXATION.

At one time the mother country suffered some anxiety with regard to her North American colonies at least, lest they they should be annexed, either with their own connivance, or without it. But the colonial mind at the present day has changed all that, and now the anxiety is, not that the colonies may be annexed, but that they may annex either each other, or something else in their neighborhood which it would be equally inconvenient after the act to retain or relinquish. Not long ago the English house of commons was convulsed with laughter at the announcement that the small Australian province of Queensland had annexed the large island of New Guinea on the north of the continent, without the slightest regard to embarrassments which might arise from the ideas of the natives themselves, the interests of the empire at large, or from the claims or pretensions of others. The latest case resulting from this new and militant frame of the colonial mind, is that of Ontario which has just annexed a portion of (as is claimed) the province of Manitoba, in the districts known by the picturesque names of Rat Portage and Rainy River, on the strength of an award which was made in 1878, which was, nevertheless, declared illegal by such authorities as Sir John Macdonald and Mr. Dalton McCarthy, and was rejected by the Dominion parliament. This may be called a case of domestic annexation. In this annexed district Ontario has erected a new courthouse, introduced a staff of constables and appointed a stipendiary magistrate, and it is stated that the municipal organization existing under Manitobian auspices will be dissolved and gracefully retire, and that the people will at once reorganize under the wing of Ontario. The Toronto Globe gives the following flourishing account of the movement:—

"The large and rapidly growing population in the Rat Portage and Rainy River districts will be afforded an opportunity of enjoying what they never had yet—efficient municipal government. An equally great boon will be conferred upon them in the shape of regular courts of civil and criminal jurisdiction, invested with ample authority to enforce their decrees. All disputed titles to property, whether for business or residence, will be investigated, and on the evidence taken on the spot at the expense of the Ontario government the conflicting claims of squatters will be decided. All timber cut outside of the railway belt will be seized as being the property of Ontario, and hereafter trespassing on the Crown lands in the disputed territory will be as rigidly repressed as trespassing is now repressed on the undisputed timber lands further east."

A commission, it is further said, will also be issued to take evidence in disputed cases. The Mail, however, as the organ of the Dominion government brings the leader of the Ontario government to book very severely, and accuses him of being the chief actor in this domestic tragedy or comedy, as the case may be, though it thinks the programme was prepared by Mr. Blake. It urges such action is a usurpation of Dominion authority, and possibly treason to the crown; a defiance of the people of Ontario, a threat to Manitoba, whose rights are at least equal to those of Ontario, in the absence of a legal decision, and an insult to the new legislature, who ought to have been consulted by the ministry in this matter. Adverting to the slight foundations of the policy inaugurated, it states that Mr. Mackenzie virtually condemned it in 1876. That in 1881 Mr. Mowat pressed the federal government not to extend the eastern boundary of Manitoba, but that such extension should be provided for by future legislation "should any competent authority decide that Ontario is entitled to less territory than by the award is declared to belong to this province," and now in spite of all this, it says, the local government have taken possession without any regard to the legal merits of the case, except that an award was made though never confirmed by parliament, but rejected as illegal and insufficient. That Sir Francis Hincks admitted it was only a compromise and not a true decision; that Mr. Blake never claimed it was valid and binding; that Mr. Mowat admitted to Mr. Meredith that he would "not go so far" as to say it was a legal and binding award, and yet his ministry now set up this award as the sole basis of their action. The Mail then predicts the following pains and penalties—that the people of Ontario and Manitoba and the disputed territory will resent Mr. Mowat's action, as well as the new Ontario legislature, who will object to being led by the nose in so serious a matter, and that the people generally are not prepared for a struggle with legitimate federal authority for the benefit of the grit leaders. So far an endeavor has been made to give an impartial statement of the affair. As a matter of common sense it may be broadly stated that the different provinces of this Dominion, partly for geographical reasons, can only exist with social and political comfort and commercial convenience as a whole. That the Dominion may be compared to a barrel almost without hoops and that anything under these circumstances tending to destroy the balance of the different staves is to be deprecated. Great discretion is, therefore, enjoined both on the federal and local governments, in the absence of which profitless though dangerous contention is sure to result. It is possible that the action of Ontario may be only a feint to compel the Dominion government to finally settle this matter of boundary, but even in that light it is reprehensible and mischievous as a shocking bad example to the other provinces. It is one of the vices of democratic institutions that they are apt to be tempted to ignore, when it suits them, the very powers of restraint with which they have invested the central government for their salvation. Any attacks, therefore, on the power of the federal government are not to be commended, but at the same time the Ontario boundary question conveys a useful lesson to the powers at Ottawa on the mischief, not to say danger, which may result from neglecting to settle questions which affect the individual interests of the different provinces, and though the people of British Columbia will not approve of the action of Ontario in this matter, their own experience may incline them to sympathize with her, for they "know how it is themselves."

WELCOME.

Visitors from the east, and especially from eastern Canada, are always welcome in Victoria, and in face of the efforts put forth by the present local government, and the guide books and immigration agents which they have provided, they can never consider themselves uninvited. When, however, such a distinguished member of the government as Sir Alexander Campbell comes to British Columbia, he may rest assured of a warm welcome, not only in Victoria, but in every other portion of the province he may happen to visit, for everybody will be anxious and willing to assist him in discovering the many attractions and resources it possesses, and in which, as one of the statesmen of this Dominion, he cannot fail to be interested. Sir Alexander Campbell could not have arrived at a more opportune season of the year, for we may tell him that we are having our customary beautiful summer, and that he will find the climate both cool and bracing—such a climate as, in fact, exists in no other part of the Dominion. Sir Alexander comes not merely in the character of a private gentlemen. His visit has a political significance and we believe he is animated with the most agreeable feelings and anticipations with regard to British Columbia and kindly sentiments towards its people. We therefore leave our visitor without further ceremony to the hospitality of the citizens, with the following brief card of introduction from the Canadian Parliamentary Companion:

CAMPBELL, Hon. Sir Alex. K.C.M.G., Q. C., P.C., (Cataraqui.)

S. of the late James Campbell, M. D. B. in Yorkshire, Eng., in 1822. Ed. at Lachine, at the Coll. of St. Hyacinthe, and at Kingston. M., in 1855, Georgina Frederica Locke, dau. of Thomas Sandwith, Esq., of Beverley, Yorkshire. Called to the Bar of U. C. in 1843. Apptd. a Q.C. in 1856, and is ex officio a Bencher of the Law Society of Ont. Represented Cataraqui Division in the L. C. of Canada from 1858 until the Union, in 1867; was Speaker of that body in 1862-63. Commr. of Crown Lands, and mem. of the Ex. Council from 1864 till the Union. A mem. of the Quebec Conference. Sworn of the Privy Coun., 1st July, 1867. Postmaster General from thence until 1873, when apptd. Minister of the Interior. Resigned with the Macdonald Govt., 5 Nov., 1873. Was leader of the government in the L. C. of old Can. from 1858 until 1867, and in the Senate from the Union, in 1867, until Nov. 1873, and from thence until the resignation of the Mackenzie govt., leader of the Opposition in the Senate. Sworn in as Receiver General, 8th Nov., 1878, became Postmaster General, 20th May, 1879, Minister of Militia and Defence, 16th Jan., 1880; Postmaster General, 8th Nov. 1880, and Minister of Justice 20th May 1881. Is leader of the government in the Senate. Created K.C.M.G. by Her Majesty the Queen, 24th May, 1879. A Conservative.—233, Metcalf St., Ottawa; Rideau Club, Ottawa; St. James' Club, Montreal.

Eastern States.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 22.—A terrific cyclone struck southern Minnesota yesterday, mainly along the line of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. The town of Elgin, in Olmstead county was totally destroyed, every building being blown down or unroofed within one minute after the storm struck the place. Mrs. Thayer was killed and several others wounded. At Owatonna great damage was done, especially at the fair grounds, where all the building were wrecked. Several persons were injured. One mile west of that place a passenger train was lifted from the track, turning clear over and twenty-five or thirty persons injured. H. A. Williams of Rochester, Minn., was injured in the back and chest; W. Rogers internally; L. Dodleman had his skull crushed. These are the only ones feared to be fatally injured. At Kasson the cyclone struck one mile west of the town, blowing down a schoolhouse and several other buildings in its track. At Mantorville three persons were killed and eight wounded, three fatally. At Waukesha there was great destruction of property and one person killed.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The total loss of the fire last Saturday, at the Munro building, is about $300,000. There were many narrow escapes, but no lives were lost. No one was seriously injured. The building is eight stories high, and the firemen worked at a great disadvantage. Thirteen firemen were cut off by fire and smoke on the eighth floor. They were rescued by means of a rope. Nine other firemen, imprisoned on the same floor, were also rescued in a similar way. The firemen on the roof were ordered off a minute before it fell. The cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion.

An attempt was made yesterday afternoon to assassinate James McDermott of Brooklyn. McDermott returned from Canada on Friday, and yesterday about 1 o'clock he left 6 City Hall place, and stepped into Ryan's saloon, Chambers street, between Centre and Chatham, accompanied by O'Donnovan Rossa and another party. Shortly after Rossa left the saloon. Directly the report of a revolver was heard, and simultaneously a man rushed into the street and fled down Centre street. The next moment McDermott was seen coming out holding his handkerchief to his bleeding cheek. Interest centered more in the fugitive than in his intended victim, and the latter walked coolly toward Centre street, where he disappeared. On reaching City Hall place the assassin turned toward Pearl street, hotly pursued by officer Adamson, who caught the fellow near Chatham street and took him to the Elizabeth-street station. In the Tombs police court he gave the name of James Gaynor of Cherry street, and said he had been in this country but ten days. He denies the shooting, but further than this kept a resolutely closed mouth.

The excitement over the threatened department of Mrs. Langtry has reached fever heat in dudedom, and it is rumored that efforts will be made to delay as long as possible the hour of her sailing. The latest rumor afloat is that Freddie Gebhardt has sold his running horse Eole to the Dwyer Brothers, and has instructed his bankers to convert $47,000 of his money into English sovereigns. It is further said that his valet has been busily employed of late moving small articles of baggage from the Fifth avenue residence to the steamship Alaska. A report, which could not be traced to any reliable source, but which has found many believers, says that Mrs. Langtry is now in New York City. One young gentleman who professes an intimate acquaintance with the movements of the Jersey Lily, says that the Alaska movement is only a ruse to throw people off the scent, and that Freddie and the Lily will take their departure from Boston. Gebhardt has $80,000 a year, but his income for several years has been mortgaged in consequence of his extravagance this season. Mrs. Langtry boasts that she has not put out a shilling in her travels. She has received $200,000 worth of jewelry from Gebhardt, who bought her a necklace for $25,000, bracelets of alternate sapphires and diamonds for $17,000, and rings enough to cover every generously built finger on the Lily's hands, besides butterflies, stars, horseshoes and crescents to stick all over her bust and form a diamond stomacher. In spite of all this, it is said she is about to to throw him overboard.

Oregon.

GOOD SALMON PROSPECTS.—The fishing season for the wheels at the Cascades is at an end, not because there is a scarcity of fish, but because the water has become low and the fish see the wheels and avoid them. The number of salmon which have gone up to the spawning grounds this season must be very large, as the immense run which came into the river a short time since was attacked by the fishermen with little vigor after the first day or two, as it was found impossible to take care of the fish caught. The prospects are favorable for a large crop of young fish, and the immediate necessity for a hatchery seems small. The fears which have prevailed for several years that the salmon would be exterminated in the Columbia appear to have been groundless, and it seems all the seines and other engines of destruction brought into use are not capable of making much impression on the vast schools of fish which visit the mighty Columbia. Thousands upon thousands of salmon are now depositing their ova in the gravel beds of numerous streams far away up among the mountains, where the water is clear and cold from the melting snow.—Oregonian.

ANNUAL STAGE ROBBERY.—The south bound stage over the California and Oregon route, which left Glendale Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, was robbed when eight miles out by three men, one described as a large man and the other two of medium size. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box containing $2500 in gold coin and the entire mail were stolen. Nothing further could be learned of the robbery on account of the telegraph lines being overburdened with business, and no thorough operators to handle it. For several years past, the overland stage has been robbed near this locality, and the most diligent efforts of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s detectives and of the United States authorities have not availed to ferret out the highwaymen. It is supposed that the robbers are residents of the mountains in the neighborhood. A remarkable coincidence in stage robberies in Southern Oregon is that there has been just one—no more—in one year.

TENNENT'S
PALE ALE & STOUT
THESE HAVE BEEN AWARDED HIGHEST Honors at recent Exhibitions.
GOLD MEDAL AT MELBOURNE, 1880.
GOLD MEDAL AT NEW ZEALAND, 1882.
GOLD MEDAL AT BORDEAUX, 1882.
J. & R. Tennent deem it of the utmost importance at this time to direct special attention to the fact that they continue to brew only from the Best of Malt and Hops.
Owing to recent changes in the Excise Laws, Beer and Stout can now legally be brewed from other materials, which, in consequence of cheapness, are being largely taken advantage of, but of which Messrs. T. entirely disapprove, and accordingly they continue to use only malt made from the finest Scotch and English Barleys.
The purchasers of the Red T Brand have a guarantee of its being a "standard" malt liquor, and for which it has been well known for over half a century in all the foreign markets. This standard of excellence it still maintains as has been recently attested at the Exhibitions in Melbourne, 1880; New Zealand, 1881; Bordeaux, 1882.
N. B. There have been more piracies of the Red T brand than of any other, which attests its superiority. These piracies have been suppressed in many markets and openly interdicted by law in Germany in 1864 and again in 1877, where the practice was most notorious. A. B. GRAY & CO.,

What Some People Say.

That the common home fly is annoyingly numerous this season.

That the sprinkler converts Government street into a mud-puddle while it leaves other streets in a state of dusty neglect.

That if the city water supply is insufficient the difficulty will have to be met by the erection of a great receiving reservoir near town.

That a gentleman recently from Portland says he met on the streets there during a stay of two days nine refugees from Victoria. Three were in employment of some description. The remaining six were idle, poor and disheartened.

That when there are sights to be seen one of the privileges of a good little boy is to push the baby out to Beacon Hill in a perambulator.

That Chas. H. and Orilla Read, noted exposers of spiritual frauds, are in town and will shortly give an exhibition.

That the unusual spectacle for Victoria of a woman smoking a Kurtz's Own was witnessed on Government street yesterday afternoon. She appeared to like it.

That the telegraphers strike continues; but it is believed that one or two of the lines will agree to the terms of the strikers in a day or two and that the Western Union Co. will have to follow or lose their business.

That Naas river oolachans may be had in kits at Fell & Co's, Fort street *

That the Chatham farm wagon with patent climax truss axle is imported only by Fellows & Prior, Government street, who are sole agents for the province. It is the best wagon now made, light running and durable.

That copies of the tariff changes may be had at The Colonist office and the bookstores to-day. *

SALMON.—There was quite a fleet of canoes in yesterday and the Indians were well provided with salmon which they were selling at prices ranging as low as 10 cents per fish.

COAL.—A party of miners have started to sink a shaft on the coal seam recently discovered at the northern extremity of Saanich Inlet.

PROTESTANT ORPHAN'S HOME.

Laying the Foundation Stone.

To-day at 2 p.m. will take place the interesting event of laying the foundation stone of the new Protestant Orphan's Home, erected upon the corner of Blanchard and Rae streets, by the Masonic fraternity with appropriate and imposing ceremonies. The higher officers of the Masonic fraternity will take part in the proceedings as follows:—The Grand Master, E. C. Baker, Esq., will lay the foundation stone with the usual masonic observances, and beneath it will be placed copies of the local papers, current coins of gold and silver and the day's proceedings engrossed on vellum. Upon the stone will be laid a purse of gold as an offering of the Masons of British Columbia. E. C. Neufelder will be grand director of ceremonies and W. F. O'Connor, Esq., Grand Marshal. The procession will form in the following order:

GOOD ENOUGH FOR CHINAMEN.—Wa Chong, the leading Chinese merchant of this city, received a consignment of 2000 mats of rice and considerable other freight from the flowery kingdom by the steamer Madras. This freight was landed in Victoria and shipped to Seattle by the Sound steamers. The duties on this lot of goods amounted to over $2000. In speaking of the quality of this rice, Wa Chong said: "This is what is known as second quality rice. It is not good enough for white folks, nor is it good enough for me, but it is good enough for ordinary Chinamen, who like it about as well as first quality, which costs, at wholesale, 50 per cent. more in China.

TWELVE STORES ON THIRD STREET.—Mr. M. V. B. Stacy is now grading his Third street school property, which he bought of this district some time ago for $30,000, preparatory to erecting thereon a row of two-story buildings the full length of the block. This will make twelve stores on the ground floor, with tenement houses above. The old school-house will be moved to the rear of the Presbyterian church and converted into a stable. The Harry Bigelow house will be moved up next week to the I. M. Hall house to make room for the school house.

The Sol Smith Russell Company.

This company closed their brief engagement last evening before another delighted audience. The satisfaction afforded was unalloyed, the merriment provoked constant and deafening applause. No more talented company has ever visited this city and the public will part with them with a feeling of regret that the engagement was not longer.

DEATH OF AN OLD ENGINEER.—Last night at 11 o'clock, George Nicol died at his residence, No. 107 North West Park street, near G, of kidney disease, aged 65 years. Mr. Nicol came to Portland in 1868 as chief engineer of the Gussie Telfair, under Ben Holladay's reign. He was afterwards transferred to the steamer California, now the Eureka, and served in her until about three years ago, when he accepted a position in Spratt's iron works at Victoria. As a boy and a young man he served the British government in the navy yard, and then entered Her British Majesty's service as engineer. Mr. Nicol was well known to the men who go down to the sea in ships, and numbers among his acquaintances many warm friends. He leaves a wife but no children. The date of the funeral will be announced to-morrow.—Oregonian 27th.

Mr. Nicol was well known in Victoria.

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER.—The steamer R. P. Rithet will leave this morning for New Westminster at 11 a.m.

THE NAVAL REVIEW.

A Grand and Beautiful Spectacle.

THE DAY FINE AND THE MANŒUVRES BRILLIANTLY EXECUTED.

At half-past eight o'clock yesterday morning a flotilla of some eight or ten men of war boats, laden with blue jackets and marines from the naval squadron at Esquimalt entered the harbor in tow of a steam pinnace and two steam launches. The men disembarked near the match factory between the two bridges for the purpose of being reviewed by Rear-Admiral Lyons at Beacon Hill. The brigade was under command of Captain Edwards, Commander of H. M. S. Mutine, and was divided into a battery of field artillery, two battalions of blue jackets (Nos. 1 and 2), and a battalion of marines of the Fleet. Number one was led by Lieut. Lees, with Lieut. Knapton on the right wing and Lieut. Vander-Byl on the left. Number two was led by Lieut. Rogers; right leader, Lieut. Henderson; left leader, Lieut. Allen. Number three was under the command of Captain Robinson, R.M.L.I., and the Swiftsure's field battery of two 9 pounders and one gatling gun was headed by Lieut. Shortland and two Sub-Lieutenants. There were four companies of blue jackets from the Swiftsure, one company from the Sappho, and one company from the Mutine. There were also three companies of marines of the Fleet, and about sixty blue-jackets to work the field pieces. The approximate number in the field may be set down as officers, 35; blue jackets, 215; marines, 125; blue-jackets for battery, 60; buglers, 5; making a total of 440. The men were drawn up into line and formed into marching order, and at the given word, to the tuneful strains of the Swiftsure's band,

PROCEEDED TOWARDS THE TOWN.

Arriving on Store street, the brigade was headed by the guns, brought up from Lamen's wharf, where they had been landed the day previously, and the march was resumed, the companies of blue-jackets headed by the band, the rear being brought up by the marines. Windows and doorways were filled with spectators, who also crowded the sidewalks. The Chinese at the lower part of the town gazed with wide open mouths and eyes at the strange sight presented to their wondering gaze; while the small boy, who was present in great force, was jubilant over the prospect of the morning's enjoyment. The all prevalent dog was also there, running between everybody's legs, rolling over in the dust in an occasional fight, and generally enjoying himself. The sturdy appearance of the brigade as they marched along the line of route with a steady "tramp, tramp," was universally remarked. The line of march after leaving Store street was up Johnson street, along Government, up Fort, into Cook street, thence along Humboldt and the approach to Beacon Hill. The band played almost continuously, and the guns, each drawn by sixteen seamen, were whirled round every corner with a run.

THE DAY WAS WARM

and bright, the only drawback being the dust which completely covered every pedestrian, the clothing of the seamen being especially impregnated owing to their having to march through the clouds raised by those in advance. Every possible contingency seemed to have been thought of and provided for, as, well ahead in the advancing columns, was a body of sappers or pioneers, who, though not bearing the whole of their kits, carried on their persons a varied stock of articles, amongst which were a shovel, billhook, spade, pick, punch, saw, crow bar, cutlass, pistol, water bottle, haversack and belts. The wore, as indeed did all the seamen, straw hats and gaiters. In the ranks also were blue-jackets belonging to the ambulance corps, carrying stretchers, poles, etc., and at intervals along the line could be seen the doctor, hospital steward, and signalmen whose duty was to convey orders by waving hand flags to the troops when skirmishing.

On the arrival of the men,

BEACON HILL

presented an animated sight, crowded as it was with spectators, from the summit to the base. Pedestrians predominated but large numbers were in buggies and carriages, or on horseback. In passing, it may be remarked that one gentleman in company with a lady in a buggy, drove his horse among those on foot with a noticeable disregard of the latter's safety. Photographers, both professional and amateur, were rushing about in frantic excitement taking likenesses of everybody and everything from every conceivable point of sight. The irrepressible representative of the sewing machine industry was also seen adopting all kinds of expedients to advertise his business. The whole brigade was drawn up in line at open order for inspection by who shortly drove up, accompanied by Mrs. Lyons and Lieut. Evan-Thomas, and was received with a general salute. He then, attended by Commanders Mainwaring and Edwards, and Lieut. Evan-Thomas, passed up and down the line. At the conclusion of the inspection the men dispersed for a period of ten minutes, and on re assembling marched past in columns, quarter columns, and at the double. This concluded, Captain Edwards put the men through manual and firing exercise and as a preparatory measure sub divided the battalions into companies. At this moment a cry was raised, "Look out for your horses, we are going to fire!" This was a timely warning to drivers and riders, who had approached to within a few feet of the muzzles of the rifles. It also acted like magic on the small boys, who rushed to the front to get as near as possible to the companies and receive the fullest benefit of the gunpowder smoke. After firing the men advanced 100 paces, and at the word of command again fired; again retreating, etc. Next came the

under the direction of Lieut. Knapton, which was performed with a regularity that was highly creditable. This was followed by cutlass drill, Lt. Lees directing. It formed a very pretty and effective sight, the men seeming more at home with this weapon than any other. They were extended by companies from their centres, and the precision of their cuts and thrusts was really admirable. The cutlasses were changed from the right to the left hand, and the same similarity of motion observed. The drill finished, the blue jackets closed in on their centres, reformed companies and wheeled into line, leaving the ground open for the interesting exhibition of under command of Lieut. Shortland. The men obeyed their orders with promptitude, brought up their guns into position, unlimbered them, and fired charges from the 9-pounders, sighting for 500 yards. Being ordered to retreat and leave their guns, in a moment they dismounted them from their carriages, removed the wheels of the latter and ran off with them, thus preventing the enemy from utilizing the pieces left on the field. An order being given countermanding the retreat, the men returned, remounted the guns, and in the space of a few seconds were firing charges as briskly as ever. The rapidity of this movement was excellent.

THE MARINES,

under Captain Robinson, next went through the bayonet exercise and in this, perhaps, slightly excelled the blue jackets. The brigade was then formed into three squares with field pieces in the centre and kept up a continuous firing of small arms with occasional discharges of the field guns. This concluded the battalions were ordered to advance by sections, the first battalion in skirmishing order, the second on the right to act as support and the third to remain as a reserve. Headed by the battery the first battalion advanced with a rush in extended order; and the gunners opened fire over the line of skirmishers who were firing, at full length on the grass. After discharging many rounds they arose and retreated at the double, taking with them the guns and carriages. They then re formed and again advanced and opened a heavy fire on the imaginary enemy with the nine pounders and small arms. At the almost simultaneous discharge of the field pieces dashed through the smoke with noses to the ground under the impression there was game near. When the firing was at its highest, the second battalion came to the support, the reserve of marines advancing at the double and forming into line. Again a retreat was made, when the bugle sounded the rally and rallying squares were formed to receive cavalry and poured heavy volleys into the approaching enemy. The notes of the bugle again rang out, and the brigade re-formed into columns and retired in good order. The order was now given to prepare to charge; then came the order "Charge!" and with hoarse and continued shouts and their rifles to the trail the whole brigade spread over the field and advanced at full speed keeping up land cries, which merged into one prolonged shout. Then came the command "Halt!" upon which the companies fell in on the markers and wheeled into line; again forming into marching order with the gatling and field guns in front. The band struck up a lively air, and aided by the martial sound of cymbals and drum through the city to their point of disembarkation. The guns were taken on the dockyard lighter, which, with the ships' boats full of red and blue jackets, were towed back to Esquimalt harbor. As far as known, no misadventure occurred to any who viewed the scene, nor, with one exception, to those who took part in it. The exception alluded to was that of a sailor who "cricked" his ankle on the final charge, and as he had lately been treated for an accident of the same kind he was placed on a stretcher and carried to the boats.

THE BRIGADE RETURNED

Thus ended the review, which was witnessed by a larger concourse of people than has assembled on Beacon Hill for some years. All expressed themselves thoroughly satisfied and pleased with the sight afforded them, and in a few minutes after the brigade departed, were making for their homes.

THE CHOLERA PLAGUE.

Victims of the Dread Disease—All Business Suspended—Precautionary Measures Being Taken by English Troops.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—The sanitary commission has decided that all passengers must undergo a medical examination before leaving Egypt. The commissioners are considering prominent sanitary measures to be enforced against vessels arriving at Egyptian ports from Bombay. The deaths from cholera on Saturday numbered 381 in Cairo and its suburbs, 33 at Mansurah, 17 at Somanoud, 26 at Mehulun, 93 at Chibin, 22 at Chobarat, 33 at Ghizeh, 4 at Damietta, 11 at Zifteh, 8 at Menzach, besides 34 in six small villages.

All business and agriculture is suspended. The customs receipts are decreasing. Two months' delay in legal judgments has been granted. In the interior the rinderpest is worse and the natives continue to eat diseased meat. The cholera has appeared at Damanhour, where crowds of people passed through the cordon. They have collected together and are badly lodged and fed.

CAIRO, July 23—Fifteen hundred inhabitants of Bulsk were removed up the Nile. The owners of the burned houses will be indemnified. The natives oppose the removal of patients to hospitals. People frequently fall dead on the streets. The epidemic is spreading northward as well as southward.

The mortality increases hourly. The evictions at Bulsk was ordered by the native ministers. The inhabitants were suddenly driven out of their homes by the police and were huddled on board barges. Hundreds evaded the police and fled to the center of the city, taking with them their filthy bedding and rags. Eight hundred of them were landed at Turah to-day. General Wood's troops caused others to return. Since then there has been a rise of cholera among General Wood's forces at Turah. The deaths at Cairo really numbered 481 between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday. Owing to the fearful mortality the natives were panic-stricken, and British officers had to bury the dead.

LONDON LETTERS.

RELATIONS BETWEEN ENGLAND AND FRANCE UNPLEASANT AND UNCOMFORTABLE.

GLADSTONE'S GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO RETIRE.

The Unspeakable Horrors of the Cholera—Bankrupt Royal Personages—Gladstone's Opinion on the Canal Question.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The Sun's cablegram from London says: Public feeling in France among all classes has become extremely bitter towards England and the relations between the two countries are becoming decidedly unpleasant and uncomfortable. The cause of it has been comprehensive, including England's general hostility to each step taken by France in her foreign policy, the English attitude in relation to French possessions in Africa, Madagascar and Tonquin, the Pakenham incident at Tamatave, and the De Lesseps imbroglio. The two countries separated widely when the Egyptian war opened and circumstances have since occurred to widen the breach. The canal difficulty, the latest difference that has arisen, grows more and more complicated, and as an element of political difficulty in England promises to be the immediate occasion of the downfall of the present government. It is said, apparently with some authority, that Gladstone will exhaust every means to induce DeLesseps to make satisfactory concessions; that, failing to do so, as he certainly will, he will submit the agreement to the House and then go to the country.

GLADSTONE'S OPPORTUNITY.

As the discussion progresses it becomes more and more apparent that the circumstances of the case afford Gladstone an opportunity to retire with dignity, and it is well known that as there is no longer any hope of his being able to bequeath a triumphant ministry to his successor, he will gladly embrace the opportunity of an honorable release. He can say he retires before a party check, inspired by a spirit of rapacity and spoliation; that he was unwilling, by fraudulent technicalities or force, to deprive DeLesseps of his first and vested rights, and that he is willing to leave to others, if the country desires it, the responsibility of a policy at once dishonest and fatal—a capitulation which would shift every particle of the burden of the day to the shoulder of the Tories and practically saddle upon them the duty of making the annexation of Egypt formal as well as actual. This would be as good an exit as Gladstone could hope for at present. He is a very wary statesman and well knows that, with the House of Commons unmanageable and distracted, domestic legislation affords no hope of rehabilitation to his government and no national misfortune threatens the country from abroad to call forth his energies and reinstate him in the fullness of his power. The French government is certainly to be commended for the spirit which projected the sending of Waddington to succeed Tissot. It was gazetted yesterday and he will take possession of the embassy on Monday and will dine with Lord Granville on Tuesday. He is the best choice they could have made in the present condition of affairs.

THE CHOLERA SCARE.

Europe is again in a spasm of apprehension at the approach of the cholera. It has spread to Cairo and is raging there with a virulence that may well excite alarm, the deaths numbering hundreds daily, according to a trustworthy observer, who doubts the truth of the government returns and has investigated for himself. New reports come to hand of unspeakable horrors endured by the unfortunate communities which the khedive, in obedience to the orders of the English government has selected to close with cordons of troops. Heretofore the Mussulman cities have met the plague with their usual fatalism and at the worst the people have gone into the desert until the pestilence has passed over. Now a British sanitary whim, having its origin in officialism and not in medical science, confines them to their walls and sends them neither food nor medicine. The rich escape by bribery, while the poor take their chances or rush on the bayonets of their guards, to find a preferable death or be driven back into the pesthouse. Damietta and Mansurah are charnel houses of putrefaction, full of unburied dead and starving thousands—monuments to the new civilization and Egypt's new Pharaohs. The Indian mails are no longer landed at Brindisi, but are taken directly to England. There is, consequently, a great cry in France against the probable transfer to French territory, by way of England, of infected goods from the east.

NOTES.

The Times' London cablegram says: The Duke and Duchess of Teck are in a sad plight. Their plate, linen, china and furniture are on sale now at the Kensington palace, including their family relics. There is much severe comment in society on the conduct of the Queen, with all her accumulated wealth, allowing such a disgrace as an auction sale in the royal family.

Another royal personage is in bankruptcy. His highness Maharajah Sngle is compelled to sell off and retire to the Punjaub, as the British government refuses further subsidies. All his plate jewelry, precious stones and furniture at Clarendon hall are for sale by auction. His highness is utterly broken.

A hitch has occurred in the purchase of Sir Philip Miles' picture gallery by Vanderbilt and connoisseurs are urging the government to buy the celebrated Raphaels and Claudes which the gallery contains.

Thomas Rawson Birks, the English ecclesiastic, is dead.

GLADSTONE AND DE LESSEPS.

LONDON, July 22.—Gladstone will tomorrow in the house of commons officially declare the government's position on the Suez canal question, and well-informed persons have no doubt that instead of allowing discussion, the government will foreclose all talk by announcing its decision for the premier desires no debate. The cabinet remains seriously divided on the whole subject. Childers openly cherishes the hope that when the question of the government's agreement with DeLesseps is placed before the commons, if a division be asked the majority will ratify the contract. A majority of Childer's colleagues, however, think he is possessed of unreasonable hope and describe him upon this question as living in a fool's paradise. The cabinet agreement admits that DeLesseps by constructing the Suez canal secured a monopoly of the right to cut interoceanic canals in Egypt, and to induce him to dig a second and parallel water-way to accommodate commerce, which is now often blocked and seriously delayed because of the inadequacy of the present ditch, stipulates that the British government will secure him all the additional land he may need for canal purposes and will lend him £3,000,000 at 3½ per cent. for fifty years. In return for these vast advantages the government binds DeLesseps to such an increase in the British representation in the canal directory as will make it proportionate to the actual amount of English money invested in both canals; to finish the second canal within five years, and to place the management of the ports of Suez, Ismailia and Port Said in the hands of Englishmen. The compact, in addition, secures to DeLesseps the life presidency of the company.

THE UNHAPPY INFORMERS.

The whereabouts of both the Careys is well concealed by the government. It is said that these men are so thoroughly detested and pursued that they have agreed to undertake a complete loss of identity and absolute exile. It is understood that the government has arranged to locate their disappearance so that a great majority even of the very best informed officials will never know what became of them. Reports purporting to give exact information about either of the Careys may be set down as reports put out by the officials for the purpose of confusing their trail.

THE AMERICAN RIFLEMEN.

The Daily Telegraph, referring to the international rifle match, praises the courage with which the Americans, who have cultivated military shooting for a comparatively brief period, came to the struggle with experienced shots. "It is possible," says the Telegraph, "that the Americans were defeated because their weapons were inferior at the longer ranges. The English should not boast of their victory, as at what may be considered military ranges they were beaten on their own ground."

WILSON'S MISSION.

The Daily News, referring to the Suez canal negotiations, says: Sir Charles Rivers Wilson found DeLesseps willing to yield something on points relative to the tariff and number of British directors, but DeLesseps was not sufficiently liberal. The question arises whether or not it is advisable to suspend discussion of the subject until the next session of parliament. It is likely that DeLesseps will agree meantime not to push the construction of the canal.

In the Port Arthur Herald appear the results of a visit paid by some gentlemen to the Rabbit Mountain Mine. They state that the vein is fifty feet wide and wonderfully rich, and that sufficient ore is in sight to warrant one in concluding that the mine is of very great value and will produce a large amount of bullion.

KINGSTON, July 13.—Last night Michael Murphy, 55 years of age, and lately employed by a farmer in the township of Pittsburg, was decapitated on the city branch of G. T. R. He was intoxicated and lying down upon the track, and was run over, his headless body being found by a party returning from Kingston mills about nine o'clock this morning.

MONTREAL, July 13.—Mr. Levetus, of the Montreal Optical Company, has assigned with liabilities of $65,000 and assets $35,000. He had branches in Toronto and Winnipeg, and to-day C. H. Grant purchased the Montreal branch for $7,101 cash.

The Rat Portage Progress says the hard times at Winnipeg are making themselves felt all over the North West country—Rat Portage among the other places. Money is very scarce there.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—C. J. Thom, principal of the public school at San Lorenzo, deliberately shot himself with a revolver this morning at 8 o'clock, dying a few hours afterwards. The people of the house in which he was residing were startled by two pistol shots about 8 o'clock, and after a moment's hesitancy rushed to Mr. Thom's room. Finding the door locked, and obtainging no response to the repeated summons, they broke open the door. A sickening sight met their gaze. On the floor in a pool of blood, lay the almost lifeless body of Mr. Thom. A doctor was sent for, but he arrived too late to render any aid. An examination revealed two wounds in the left side just below the heart, through which the life blood gushed in a crimson stream. The cause was unrequited affection.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A BYLAW

TO REGULATE THE ERECTION OF WOODEN BUILDINGS WITHIN THE FIRE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF VICTORIA, AND TO PROVIDE FOR THE STORAGE OF INFLAMMABLE AND COMBUSTIBLE ARTICLES.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE MAYOR and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria:—

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor and Council, from time to time when by them deemed necessary, to appoint an Inspector of Buildings, at such salary as the Municipal Council shall think proper.

2. The duties of such Inspector shall be to oversee the erection of all buildings hereafter to be erected, built, enlarged, altered, or re-erected within the City of Victoria, and to enforce the provisions of this Bylaw.

3. To examine, by virtue of his office, or whenever he may be so directed by the Mayor and Council, or by a Police Magistrate, or by any Justice of the Peace of the said City, all chimneys, fireplaces, hearths, ovens, boilers, furnaces, stoves, steampipes, stovepipes, funnels, flues and all places where fires are made or kept, or where ashes are kept; and also to examine all buildings or other premises where gunpowder, coal oil, hay, straw or other inflammable substances are kept, or where any trade which is considered by the Inspector of Buildings dangerous as causing or increasing the liability of fire is carried on, and to report thereon, and if necessary, to notify the owner, lessee, occupier or party using the building of any defect or objection thereto, or to the construction thereof, in any such stovepipe, chimney, fireplace or ashpit, and to direct the repair, alteration or discontinuance thereof as may be considered requisite.

4. If any owner, lessee, occupier or party using a building where any chimney, fire place, hearth, oven, boiler, furnace, stove, steam pipe, funnel, flue or place for keeping ashes, or any other place which is deemed to be dangerous, neglects to discontinue the use of, or to alter, repair, or remove the same in accordance with the notice in that behalf and issued by the inspector of buildings or under the authority of a resolution of the Municipal Council of the said city of Victoria and signed by the said Inspector, or by one of the Fire Wardens, he or they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten dollars a day for each and every day that default shall be made in not complying with the said notice in addition to all other penalties imposed by this By-Law.

5. Until otherwise ordered by the said Municipal Council the City Surveyor shall perform the duties prescribed by this By Law, to be performed by the Inspector of Buildings.

6. In all cases of building or rebuilding any house, warehouse, or other building when on the line of any public street or within seven feet thereof, there shall be erected by the builder a board fence of not less than six feet in height to enclose not more than half of the width of the sidewalk in front of such building and outside of such fence a planked pathway shall be laid by such builder at least four feet wide, for the convenience of the public, or it shall be lawful for him instead of erecting such fence and pathway to plank over the whole of the scaffold at the height of the first floor above the ground floor of such building, and to enclose such scaffold at the same height at least eighteen inches all round above the level of the planked floor above said, the sidwalks of the street being left free for public use.

7. No person shall place any lumber, stone, chips, shavings, rubbish, or any building material whatever, on any sidewalk, except within the aforesaid fence, and when buildings are being erected on any street no person shall be allowed to occupy more than one-third in width of the roadway with any such building material so as to obstruct the free passage of the water in the drains, gutters or water courses, and no person shall suffer or permit any such building material to remain on the street any longer than is necessary for the erection of the building for which such material is designed; and on the completion of the external walls and roof of any such building, and of such completion the Inspector of buildings shall be sole judge, the contractor or owner thereof shall within three days thereafter entirely remove all materials from the street, and cause the street to be cleaned from all such building material and left in good repair.

CHIMNEY STACKS.

All Chimney Stacks shall be carried to a height of not less than four feet above the walls, Ridge, or Deck of any Roof, except in cases where the Ridge or Deck of any Roof exceed the height of six feet above the base of such Chimney, then the height shall be determined by the said Inspector, and where a Chimney Stack is used to carry away smoke or noxious vapors from any manufactory, the said Stack shall be carried to such a height as to effectually clear the surrounding buildings to the satisfaction of the said Inspector of Buildings. All Stacks shall be built of Stone, Brick or Iron and in the most substantial manner.

BOILERS AND OVENS.

9. No timber shall be laid within two feet of the inside of any Oven, Copper, Still, Boiler or Furnace, nor within nine inches of the opening of any chimney, nor within seven inches of any metal flue, nor within four and a-half inches of any brick flue, unless the wood is properly protected to the satisfaction of the Building Inspector.

STEAM PIPES AND FUNNELS.

No pipe or funnel for conveying steam shall be fixed next any public street or highway or on the front of any buildings, nor shall any funnel, pipe or flue for conveying fire or smoke be fixed on the inside of any building nearer than twelve inches to the face of any timber, nor shall any such funnel, pipe or flue pass through any timber, framing or partition of wood, or wood and lime, or through any wooden floor, in any house, outhouse, fence or building whatever, within the said City, unless there shall be a space of at least six inches clear between the said funnel, pipe or flue and such framing, partition or floor, and the same pass through a chimney of stone or bricks and mortar, or be encased by a rim of solid stone or thick metal not less than three inches wide and equal in thickness to the full finished thickness of the framing through which such pipes shall pass.

11. No occupant of any house or building within the said City shall permit any pipe-hole not in use in any chimney in such house or building to remain open; all such holes shall be closed with a proper stopper of metal or other incombustible material.

12. No person shall place or keep any ashes in any wooden box, or within three feet of any wooden floor or partition, or in any outhouse or shed, unless properly protected; and no person shall store or permit to be stored any combustible material in any yard within one hundred feet of any building unless the same is properly covered and protected from fire, and of the sufficiency of such protection the Inspector of Buildings shall be sole judge.

13. No person shall set up, erect, or construct, or build, or use, work, or cause or procure to be set up, erected, constructed, built or worked, any steam engine except under the terms of this bylaw.

14. No person shall establish, set up, carry on or continue within the said City any tannery, fellmongery or place for boiling soap, making or running candles, or for the melting of tallow, or any manufacture of varnish, fireworks, or any coal oil refinery, or any other factory which from its nature or the material used therein shall be dangerous, in causing or promoting fires, unless and until he shall have obtained a certificate of compliance with the general regulations hereby prescribed or to be prescribed by any bylaw of the Corporation.

INFLAMMABLE SUBSTANCES.

15 No larger quantity than 80 gallons of coal oil or any oils of a similar character in wooden casks, nor more than 300 gallons if in tin, metal, stone or earthenware, nor a larger quantity than 20 gallons of crude oil, burning fluid, naptha, benzole, benzine or other similar combustible and dangerous material shall be kept in any wooden building within the city limits, nor a larger quantity than 150 gallons of coal oil, or other such oils in wooden casks, or 750 gallons in tin, metal, stone or earthenware, nor any larger quantity than 80 gallons of crude oil, burning fluid, naptha, benzole, benzine or other similar combustible or dangerous material shall be kept in any brick building within the city limits unless the same shall be kept in a cellar properly ventilated and without a floor or one of brick, stone, cement, or other incombustible material, then 300 gallons of coal oil or other such oils in wooden casks or 1000 gallons if in tin, stone or earthenware may be kept, nor shall any of the fluids before mentioned be permitted to flow into any drain or sewer of the said city.

16. Notwithstanding any thing in the preceding section contained, when fire proof buildings are so constructed as to insure at all times a thorough ventilation thereof and are used exclusively for the purpose of keeping or storing coal oil, burning fluid, crude oil, naptha, benzola or other similar combustible or dangerous materials are isolated or detached at least two hundred feet from all other buildings, then any of the said fluids may be kept and stored therein without limit as to quantity.

17. No fire shall be taken into lighted or used within the said last mentioned storage buildings either for heat, light or any other purpose whatever.

18. Every person desiring to keep or store in the manner provided by the 16th section of this By-Law any of the fluids mentioned in the said 16th section, shall make a written application to the Mayor and Council for permission so to do, and shall state in such application the store, house, shop, building or place in which he desires to keep or store the said fluids, or any of them, and it shall be the duty of the said inspector to examine the premises of the applicant and to report to the said Mayor and Council thereon, and upon every such report the said Mayor or Council shall either grant or refuse permission.

19. When any building or buildings within the city limits shall be deemed by the City Inspector to be unsafe from any cause, the owner, lessee, contractor or agent shall be notified at once to make the same safe and secure, and every person so notified who fails within twenty-four hours (or such time as shall be expressed in the notice) to comply with such notice, shall be subject to all the penalties of this By-Law.

FIRE LIMITS.

20. The Mayor and Council may from time to time by resolution very the existing Fire Limits.

21. No building shall be erected or placed on old or new foundations or on foundations partly old and partly new within the fire limits unless the same shall be built with main walls of concrete, stone, brics, iron or other suitable materials and the external walls of any brick building must be of not less than the following dimensions:

ONE-STORY BUILDINGS.

Outside walls shall not be less than one brick or 8½ inches thick, or more than 14 feet in height, or more than 50 feet in length unless strengthened by cross partitions or other means approved by the Inspector of buildings.

One and a half brick or 12½ inch thick walls shall not exceed 16 feet in height nor 70 feet in length unless strengthened by cross partitions or other means approved by the Inspector of buildings.

TWO STORY BUILDINGS.

Outside walls, ground floor wall, to be not less than one and a half brick or 12½ inches thick, and not to exceed 16 feet in height or 70 feet in length without being strengthened by cross walls, partitions or other means approved of by the said Inspector.

Outside walls, first floor, to be not less than one brick or 8½ inches thick, nor more than 14 feet in height nor more than 50 feet in length unless strengthened as aforesaid.

THREE-STORY BUILDINGS.

Ground floor outside walls shall not be less than two bricks or 17½ inches thick, nor more than 17 feet in height nor more than 100 feet in length, unless strengthened as before mentioned.

First floor outside walls shall not be less than one and a half brick, or 12½ inches thick, nor more than 14 feet in height, nor more than 50 feet in length, unless strengthened as aforesaid.

Second floor outside walls shall not be less than one brick or 8½ inches thick nor more than 12 feet in height nor more than 50 feet in length, unless strengthened as before mentioned. And for every additional 20 feet length or 2 feet in height, or any fraction thereof added to any of the above measurements one half brick, or 4½ inches in thickness, must be added to the thickness of walls of each and every story; and the brick or stone work of any and every building must be carried to such height as may be requisite to effectually protect the woodwork of roof of such building from any adjoining building, and to the satisfaction of the City Inspector of buildings.

Basement walls are to be not less than 4½ inches thicker than the walls under which they are built, and shall be of either stone, brick or other suitable materials, and for every four feet in height over 10 feet or 20 feet in length over 70 feet, or any part thereof, then the walls must be increased in thickness 4½ inches.

Foundations to Brick or Stone Buildings not having Basements are to be not less than 18 inches in the solid ground below the floor level, and to be not less than 4½ inches thicker than the walls under which they are built, and are to be of Brick, Stone or other suitable material.

ROOF COVERINGS.

Roof coverings shall be of slate, tin, iron or other incombustible materials.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

22. All Doors in Theatres, Music Halls, Hotels, Churches and other buildings used for the assembly of large bodies of persons, must open outwards, and ample provision be made for the rapid emptyings of the said buildings.

23. No wooden buildings within the said fire limits shall be removed, except to a portion of the same lot on which it stands, or to a point outside of fire limits, and then only with the written permission of the Mayor and Council and subject to such conditions and stipulations as may be thought advisable, and no wooden building within the said limit shall be altered or changed without the written permission of the Inspector of buildings approved by a majority of Fire Wardens, which permit shall specify fully the alterations required, and no such permit shall be given if any increase will be made by the proposed change or alteration in the size of the wooden building within the said limits, or if such repairs increase the value of such building more than twenty-five per cent. the application therefore and a copy of each of such permits shall be kept in the office of the City Clerk.

PARTY WALLS, ARCHES, CHIMNEYS.

24. All party walls shall be built between house and house, except in such parts where each house has independent walls. Party walls not being of sufficient thickness shall be taken down when one or more of the adjoining houses requires to be rebuilt. External walls shall not become party walls unless the same shall have been previously erected in accordance with the provisions of the By-Law. The brickwork in all party walls and external walls shall be properly bonded, or anchored in every case.

25. No timber shall at any time hereafter be laid into any party wall or arch, except for bond to the same, nor into any party wall other than such templets, chains and bond timbers as shall be necessary for the same, and other than the ends of girders, beams, binding or brunning joists, or other principal timbers; all of which timbers shall have at least four inches and a-half of solid brickwork between the ends and sides thereof, and the timber of any building adjoining thereto, and the ends of every girder, beam, purline, binding or trimming joists, and every piece of principal timber may be laid beyond the centre of any party wall, providing that there be left four inches and a half of solid brick or stonework at the end of every such piece of timber, except in places where any parts of the ends of any such timber shall be opposite to and level with any part of the ends of any timber of any adjoining building, in which case no part of such timber shall approach nearer than two inches to the centre of the said party wall.

BREAST SUMMERS.

26. Breast-summers in all cases shall be carried on brick or stone walls, or piers, or on cast iron columns seated on stone, and shall in no case be carried on story posts or other timber supports; and when the ends of any breast-summers shall approach the centre line of any party wall nearer than four inches and a-half, such ends shall be encased and entirely surrounded in cast iron shoes.

CHIMNEYS AND HEARTHS.

27. All Chimneys back to back on party walls shall be in the chimney backs at the least one brick or 8½ inches in thickness. Chimney backs in party walls not being back to back with any other chimney shall be at least 8½ inches clear from the party line; the thickness above specified to be continued to a height of at least 8 inches above the mantel in every case. All flues built in internal, external or party walls shall be surrounded by brickwork not less than 4 inches in thickness.

28. Chimney Hearths shall in all cases be laid wholly on brick or stone in cement, unless the same be in a cellar or basement story and be laid and bedded in solid earth, and every chimney shall have a slab or slabs or foot pieces before the same of stone, bricks, marble, iron or cement at least one foot four inches broad and extending at least six inches beyond each end of every fireplace opening.

29. Hay or Straw shall not be permitted to be stored or kept for sale in buildings within the city limits unless the same shall be properly secured from danger by fire to the satisfaction of the Inspector of Buildings and the Fire Wardens, and if any building used for the storage of hay or straw shall be deemed dangerous by the said Inspector or Fire Wardens the parties using the same shall be notified to discontinue the use thereof or to have said buildings made secure, and for every day so using the said buildings, or permitting them to be used after the expiration of such notice, they shall be liable for the full penalty mentioned in this Bylaw.

30. The line of wall of any building fronting on any street, alley, lane or public highway within the limits of the City of Victoria, shall be parallel with the centre line of such street, alley, lane or public highway as laid down on the official map of the said city, and no building, or part of any building shall project or encroach on any such street, alley, lane or public highway.

31. The penalty for the breach of any section of this bylaw shall be the same as is mentioned in the Municipality Act, 1881.

32. All bylaws and parts of bylaws conflicting with this bylaw shall be, and the same are hereby repealed.

33. This bylaw shall be cited as the "Victoria Building Bylaw, 1883." Passed the Council this 29th day of June, A.D., 1883.

Reconsidered and finally passed this Eleventh day of July, A.D., 1883.
